Transport to and from the British Library site at Boston Spa

- The British Library’s site at Boston Spa is in a rural environment with limited public transport links from York.
- The Library is providing transport to and from the site. See map below for the pick-up point.
- Please be aware that if you miss the coach you will have to use a taxi. There are plenty available by the railway station but the average cost would be approximately £25 one way.
- In an emergency phone The British Library switchboard 0843 208 1144 and ask for Louise Howlett, Gail Howland or Andrea Stubbs.
