

Strictly Legal: Toeing the Copyright Line

Tuesday 6 June 2006: National Library of Scotland, Edinburgh

Copyright and legal deposit in a changing environment

Programme

- 10.00 Registration and coffee
- 10.20 Welcome, opening and introductions by the Chair and UKSG representative
Tony Kidd, Assistant Director, Financial and Corporate Services, Glasgow University Library
- 10.30 Understanding copyright: the theory
Andrew Braid, Licensing and Copyright Compliance Manager, The British Library
UK copyright law continues to develop, and this session will cover the current legislative position, reviewing the impact of the 2003 legislation and the European Directive. Implications for librarians and others, and possible future developments, will be examined.
- 11.15 The practicalities of copyright
Helen Bartlett, HERON Copyright Manager, Ingenta
This interactive session will give delegates the opportunity to review and discuss examples, issues and problems relating to copyright practice, including latest developments related to digitisation in higher education for example, so that they can take away practical solutions and address issues with greater confidence.
- 12.15 Lunch
- 13.15 Legal deposit: the theory
Martin Graham, Legal Deposit and Modern Collections Manager, National Library of Scotland
Information will be provided on legal deposit, with special emphasis on progress in the deposit of non-print, including electronic, materials. The UK position, and the role of the British Library, will be fully covered, as well as the particular position of the National Library of Scotland.
- 14.00 Preparing for the future – a publisher's perspective
Cliff Morgan, Vice President/Planning and Development Director, John Wiley & Sons Ltd
As plans for the implementation of electronic legal deposit in the UK continue to develop, this speaker, intimately involved in the process, will outline the up-to-the-minute position.
- 14.30 Deposit practice for electronic journals
Johan Stapel, Head – e-Depot, National Library of The Netherlands
The National Library of The Netherlands – Koninklijke Bibliotheek (KB) – is a world leader in electronic journal deposit. This speaker will outline their latest position and plans for the future, including practical problems and solutions.
- 15.15 Summing up and evaluation forms
- 15.25 Close of seminar
- 15.30 Optional one-hour tour of the National Library of Scotland (George IV Bridge site).

Strictly Legal: Toeing the Copyright Line

Copyright and legal deposit in a changing environment

Following last year's successful seminar on this subject at the British Library, this is another opportunity to brief yourself on the ever-changing world of copyright and legal deposit, this time in the surroundings of the National Library of Scotland. Expert speakers will examine the theoretical and practical aspects of recent legislation and agreements, and there will be opportunities to discuss practical solutions to the challenges faced. There will be an optional tour of the NLS to round off the day.
