UKSG InForum

Wednesday 22 March 2006: London

A discussion group

If you enjoy the opportunity to 'talk shop' with other like-minded information people you will benefit from this UKSG meeting. The UKSG InForum is:

- an opportunity to exchange ideas and experience
- a time to extend your personal and professional networks
- a chance to take time out of a busy work-life to consider the context in which you work
- an occasion to feel less isolated and alone if you work in professional isolation
- a time to refresh your knowledge and find solutions to your problems.

The session will begin with a general overview of the topic and then open up for input from all present. Ensuing discussions are always interesting and stimulating with the creative collective input addressing issues of shared interest and concern.

This is not a lecture, not a workshop and not a training course. It is an opportunity to brainstorm topics of mutual interest with professional colleagues.

"To acquire knowledge, one must study; but to acquire wisdom, one must observe [and share and discuss]." Marilyn vos Savant
